

Abram's Example

As we read the Old Testament, we don't want to lose sight of Jesus. Read the following New Testament passages and then answer the questions with respect to Genesis 13.

Mark 10:41–45

Luke 22:24–30

1. How do these passages relate to Abram's interaction with Lot regarding the conflict that arose between their herdsmen?
2. If we aligned these scenes, who would represent Lot in the New Testament passages?
3. Can you think of an example in your life where there was a conflict over property or time or resources of some sort? How did you respond to the conflict? How might your response be different in the future in light of these passages?
